Parti Laval - Équipe Larochelle

Launched in 2016 to offer Laval residents a true alternative, Parti Laval quickly established itself as a credible and positive voice, recognized for its rigor in Laval's political landscape.

From the very beginning, we chose to prioritize the collective over individualism. Our vision is clear: a safe city, clean neighborhoods, well-maintained infrastructure, and accessible local services across the territory. We want rigorous and responsible management of municipal finances. In short, a city that takes care, first and foremost, of real priorities!

In Laval, the same political party has held the mayor's office for 12 years. It's time for a change. You deserve a responsible and effective administration. Starting now.

Our leader and candidate for mayor: Claude Larochelle.

Graduated in civil engineering, with over 30 years of experience in business management for large corporations in Eastern Canada, he has proudly called Laval home for nearly 35 years. A father of three, he fully understands the realities of Laval families.

City councillor and leader of the opposition since 2017, he is recognized for his rigor and his closeness to citizens. Known for his effectiveness in solving problems, he embodies solid and credible leadership.

« Laval needs strong, reassuring, and credible leadership to build a sustainable, safe, and well-managed city. »

Our Values

Transparency

Putting citizens back at the heart of decisions.

Proximity

Valuing every neighborhood, not just downtown.

Responsibility

Managing every dollar with rigor and integrity.

Sustainability

Protecting our environment and natural spaces.

Equity

Promoting an inclusive city where citizens, regardless of age, origin, or situation, can thrive.

1) A city serving its citizens and their well-being

“Because it all starts in our neighborhoods.”

We want vibrant, well-equipped, and welcoming neighborhoods. Better-served neighborhoods where services will truly be available. We will invest heavily in local infrastructure, creating recreation, sports, and cultural spaces tailored to each neighborhood, as well as in basic services that truly meet your needs.

2) Safe, clean, and well-maintained neighborhoods

“Because the safety of our neighborhoods, pedestrians, and road users must be a priority.”

Road safety must become a priority for the city. We will increase police presence and make our neighborhoods and local streets safer. We will implement clearly marked pedestrian crossings, better lighting, and streets designed to protect vulnerable users. At the same time, we will act concretely to ensure clean and well-maintained neighborhoods through rapid interventions to repair, clean, and maintain public spaces in good condition.

3) Responsible finances and an effective city

"Because citizens deserve to have their money well invested. They deserve effectiveness, not a show."

Laval residents must have the assurance that their taxes are being spent on real priorities. We will protect the wallets of Laval families by limiting property tax increases and offering more flexibility to families and seniors. We will put an end to oversized projects that drive up debt and refocus investments on what really matters.

4) Sustainable infrastructure to protect Laval and make it a resilient city

"Because behind every flood, there are human stories. The people deserve an administration that does everything possible to protect them from floods and natural disasters."

We will invest in the modernization of essential infrastructure: sewers, water supply, and stormwater systems, to reduce flood risks and ensure family safety. We will also implement concrete measures to help every household secure their home. At the same time, we will prepare Laval for climate challenges by relying on sustainable solutions: urban greening, protection of natural areas, and upgrading our networks. A resilient city is one that protects itself and its citizens.

5) Smooth, accessible, and fair mobility

"Because efficient transportation means a city that moves forward."

Mobility must no longer be a daily obstacle. We will reassess the entire road, pedestrian, and cycling network to make it more coherent and safer. We will improve the experience of public transit users and support structuring projects that will relieve congestion in Laval. Whatever the mode of transportation, every citizen must be able to move efficiently throughout our city.

6) A city that values its culture, its heritage, and its language

"Because taking care of our culture, our heritage, and our language strengthens the social fabric of our city and the collective identity of Laval residents."

We want a city that values the French language, preserves its heritage, and supports cultural creation. Preserving what unites us and passing on what distinguishes us, while respecting everyone's language rights, means building a strong city, alive and proud of its history.
